

The PCB Assembly Specialist

Quality Policy

ESD Ltd is committed to providing quality products and services with respect to the assembly and distribution of printed circuit boards and associated products by putting in place the necessary resources to enable the company to meet the objectives set out in this Quality Policy.

The resources (People, training, equipment and environment) required to fulfil our contractual obligations with our customers are monitored and reviewed regularly to ensure that we can meet client and market requirements, and achieve customer satisfaction.

The Management and staff at ESD Ltd consider the quality system to be a primary factor in the continuous success of the company and are fully committed to maintaining and improving an effective Quality Management System to meet the requirements of ISO9001:2015. We will hold regular audits and continuously review our procedures.
